As I write this article for our new Florida Elks Magazine, Florida Elks have just concluded one of our most successful and most noteworthy Grand Lodge conventions in many years, and wouldn't you know that I had to sit this one out for health reasons. I kept in touch with the happenings, and PNP Mike Smith and PSP and past Grand Lodge Ritual Committee Chairman, Brian Burns, acted as my on-site reporters and I thank them for reporting our many successes so I could brag about them in this article.

First and foremost are the membership awards. Florida Elks placed first in the nation in recognition of significant membership improvement and second in the nation in membership growth with a gain of 352. Thank you, Suzi Simonelli and all Florida Elks, who worked tirelessly to achieve this goal! Please continue our tremendous successes with membership growth.

PDD Pete Vaphiades came in second in Area 3 in the number of new members proposed; that’s quite an accomplishment and honor. All Florida Elks thank you.

Tallahassee Lodge won the Grand Lodge ritualistic competition and had three All-Americans: John Bozeman, All-American Leading Knight; Ron Brown, All-American Inner Guard; and Adrienne Bellflower, All-American Candidate. All-American Coaches were Jan Thorburn and Tracey Austin.

Achieving this great honor came at just the right time as Past State President Larry Henley, also from Tallahassee Lodge, had the honor of being sworn in as Grand Esteemed Lecturing Knight. Florida Elks can be very proud of Larry and the officers of Tallahassee Lodge for keeping Florida Elks in the forefront on the Grand Lodge national stage.

Both the major projects booth and the Florida Elks News won five-star awards yet again. As always, our major projects shine due to the dedication, enthusiasm and generosity of Florida Elks.

The legislative session resulted in a few changes. The requirement that the initiatory ritual be performed at the visit of the District Deputy was eliminated. The short form of the initiatory ritual is no longer an option. Lodges are permitted to have a minimum of just one meeting per month. The Lodge Treasurer now has more latitude in paying lodge bills via electronic transfer or debit card use. I’m sure the Exalted Rulers of the various lodges will give a full report on all the legislative changes.

Mike, Bob and I wish everyone a safe summer. Don't forget to attend the official visit(s) of our State President, Carl Gerace, and Cathy, along with VPAL Frank Malatesta and Sally. These two couples will represent us well. We all thank John Harris for a job well done.

On a personal note, I thank all of you for your calls, emails, cards and prayers. This is just a blip on the health radar screen and all will be well by the midyear meeting of the FSEA in Crystal River.

We look forward to seeing you there.

Cathy and I would like to thank you for this great honor of being your State President and First Lady, and we look forward to seeing you as we visit each district. Our motto for the year is Excellent Leadership through Kindness and Service, or simply put, ELKS. Each one of us has a duty to be a leader in our lodges, district and state association. We have a commitment to make life better for all – to offer a hand in kindness and to give back through service for the great life we live. We need to build long-lasting relationships and make a strong Elks for everyone so we can continue helping our children, veterans and order. We need stronger relationships with our members, both to keep members and to bring in new members. We need to build better relationships between our lodges to work together instead of against each other, and we need to build better relationships between the districts in getting the word out on what we do and who we help.

Only when we treat everyone with respect and kindness will we be able to close the back door through which so many of our members leave. It is so important to keep our members in our lodges not just so we can grow but for the knowledge they have and the things they know about our lodges and order. Their leadership is very important to help us be successful in all we do.

The Florida State Elks Association is working hard to help your lodges get new members and helping you get the word out on all the good works we as Elks do.

One of our new programs is the president’s grant program. From our state association we have been given $2,000 per district to give out at the Saturday evening dinner during the president’s visit to your district. It can all go to one lodge or be broken down to go to a few lodges. How to qualify is on the state website on the president’s page. Please take some time and check it out.

Once again, Cathy and I are so very proud to be traveling the state meeting all the great Elks, hearing your stories and seeing your lodges. We look forward to talking with as many great Florida Elks as we can.

Take care and God bless.

Fraternally,

Carl Gerace, State President
Florida State Elks Association

Attraction versus Pursuit of Money and Members

Do we expect too much of too few when it comes to the operation of our lodges? Is there any wonder why we burn people out? This concept changed in our lodges about 20 years ago as membership dropped and we pivoted toward an all-volunteer business model, but is this model sustainable? It might be sustainable if we have a steady supply of new members to run things, but what happens when we the boomers are played out (the youngest are now 51) and we must then seek new members from Generation Y, the millennials? I guess we will have our answer in about 10 years, won't we? So, do we just ride out what we are doing today and hope for the best, or do we plan, posture our lodges for the next generation, control what happens and have a say so? The latter will require a little work and the former a bit less. Will we watch what happens and be proud or will we watch what happens and then wonder what happened?

Two things that will always matter are money and members, neither of which we seem to ever have enough of. The business philosopher Jim Rohn once said, “money is usually attracted, not pursued.” The same could be said for our members; they too should be attracted, not pursued. Think about this a minute: our money and our members being attracted, not pursued.

Now let's look at our business practices and apply the attracted versus pursued test to them starting with our members. Let's see, we award members for being top recruiters. Are these gained members attracted or pursued? We offer financial discounts to former members who reinstate their membership during certain times of the year. Are these gains attracted or pursued? We rush people to a commitment to meet a deadline for number counts. Isn't this also pursuit? When was the last time your lodge held an open house to attract and educate potential members about membership in the Elks? I'm not talking about handing out brochures at a community event and hoping someone will call or about obtaining a one-time open-to-the-public liquor license for the day to hold an event at the lodge to pursue customers for our cheap drinks. What I'm talking about is a planned event held at the lodge where pre-qualified prospects have been invited to learn more about being an Elk, where the orientation videos are played (yes orientation videos — why is this reserved for an indoctrination-type event after they have already decided to join?) and prospects are exposed to the obligation they will be asked to make to their lodge and community. I'm talking about an activity held to attract new members with like minds and attitudes who are willing to give of their time and who understand there is a financial commitment to supporting the lodge with more than just their lounge and restaurant dollars.

The next generation is all about quality of life and lifestyle. What are we doing in our lodges to attract these types of individuals? They will not be interested in drinking our deeply discounted (ok, cheap) wines and yesterday’s beers. If we want to attract them, they are going to want options. They are not going to come to the lodge and be the same people week after week tasked with doing all the work. They are going to be up at 6 a.m. to do a charity fun run, catch their grandchild’s Little League activity at 10 a.m. and then come to the lodge to assist with the latest lodge project while socializing with others who too have already had a busy day! We must share the burden equally among many and not the few as we do today! We do this by attracting members to what we have and not what we want them to build!

Then there is money and I am not talking about the cash flow that barely supports our bar and restaurant operations. In fact, it could probably be argued that most of the time it does not! I’m talking about the attraction of money as an investment in the proliferation of the lodge. Money to cash flow the operations will forever be pursued until such time that we operate as a business. This would mean pricing, service and quality all on par with those we compete against every day! There is a reason drinks are priced the way they are in a restaurant. That doesn’t mean our prices need to be that high but they could sure stand to be higher! Then we could focus more on attracting customers, our members, and we could then compete with our nicer facilities and even be open more! Our forever focus on fundraising is a turnoff to many and often keeps them out of the lodge. This is because they feel pursued. Our focus should be more on attracting those who wish to give and participate!

My aim in these articles is to inform, educate and instill a sense of responsibility in our success. I do this by sometimes offering ideas that are not your normal run-of-the-mill thoughts and ideas. We are not perfect and sometimes we have to look at ourselves as others see us before we realize the need to improve. So, how am I doing? Let me know what you think! Email me at carl@floridaelks.org.

to sample the strawberry shortcake in the evening, you missed a good dessert.

The FLOE organization, May’s committee chairladies and I thank the FSEA staff for all they did before and during the weekend of the Elks convention. They worked very hard and put in very long hours at the convention. They were wonderful to us. Teamwork does make a dream work. Many thanks go to Steve Harmon for working with the auction chairladies and me to the very end.

To all the ladies’ organizations and individuals who donated to the FLOE fundraising event, the Chinese auction, thank you so much. FLOE raised $1,900 for its charities. The proceeds will be given to the Elks Charities at a future date. If you aren’t aware, this Chinese auction was Judy Fournier’s 10th year as chairlady. Thank you, Judy, for your years of service to this worthwhile event.

The FLOE hospitality suite was open Thursday and Friday evenings. Many enjoyed our signature strawberry frozen drink. To the many people who visited us, thank you for coming. We were glad you came and spent time with us.

Saturday morning was the FLOE business meeting. FSEA dignitaries have come to the previous FLOE meetings this FLOE year, and this meeting was no exception. In attendance were Larry Littell, outgoing LOE State Chairman; Marty Wierzbicki, incoming LOE State Chairman; Steve Carruthers, incoming Vice Chairman; John Harris, outgoing FSEA President; Carl Gerace, incoming FSEA President; and Frank Malatesta, incoming Vice President at Large. It is obvious to the ladies they care about and support FLOE. The business meeting had a packed agenda. Bylaws Committee Chairlady, Becky Long, PSP, read the proposed recommended changes to the current bylaws. At the September conference, they will be read again and the voting will take place. Nominating Committee Chairlady, Jane Moon, PSP, read the committee’s recommendations for the 2017-2018 officers. The elected new officers are President, Mary McCoy; Vice President, Felicia Vuletich; Secretary, Adella Ashton; and Treasurer, Marlene Evans. Linda Rittenhouse and I will join the Advisory Council with four-year terms. Congratulations, ladies! The 2017 FLOE conference packet was distributed to everyone present and reviewed. The Sheraton Orlando North Hotel in Maitland, Fla., is accepting reservations through Aug. 21. The block of rooms is limited so reservations should be made as soon as you can.

Remember bringing glow sticks to conference last year? Before Saturday’s meeting, I spoke with FEYC Director, Nick Miller, to see if ladies could bring something for the campers to the upcoming conference. As new business in our meeting, I presented for discussion the idea he gave me: water balloons and water guns. The ladies in attendance were in favor of FLOE doing this for a project for the conference. After the meeting, I notified Nick Miller, gathered specifics about the items from him and followed up in writing with the ladies to help me get the word out about this project.

The conference packet is on the FSEA website. Please contact me at 813-754-2240 or by email at ckalel@verizon.net if you want a paper copy of it. Note the deadlines on the packet contents sheet. The conference committee chairladies are working very hard. Please come to the 54th FLOE conference.

Congratulations go to the new FSEA officers. I look forward to working with President Carl Gerace; VPAL Frank Malatesta; LOE State Chairman, Marty Wierzbicki; and LOE Vice Chairman, Steve Carruthers, the last few months of my term as FLOE President.

Our next meeting will be Saturday morning, Sept. 23, 2017, at 8:30 a.m. at the Orlando Sheraton North. I am looking forward to this conference and seeing everyone. Please don’t hesitate to contact me if you have a question about the conference or want more information about the water balloons and water guns project. Have a great summer and I will see you in September.

As a member of Winter Park Lodge #1830, I am proud to be the new Director of Florida Elks Children's Therapy Services. As an Elk in the great state of Florida, I know how easy it is to brag about Florida's major projects, and now, as the new Director, I cannot tell you how proud I am and what an honor it is to be a part of such an amazing program.

We as Florida Elks have so much to be proud of when it comes to Florida Elks Children's Therapy Services. Our 18 occupational therapists and eight physical therapists are among the best in their field. Every day they go into the homes of their patients to work with the patients in a familiar setting, and, just as importantly, with the parents and other family members. They truly make a difference in the lives of these young patients and families.

Our State President, Carl Gerace, has requested a therapist speak at each of his district visits. Each therapist who spoke at an Elks function is very happy to do so. Hopefully by doing this, our members will hear firsthand from the therapist about the amazing work they do for the children of Florida, and we as Elks need to continue our support of both our major projects.

I have a couple stories I would like to share with you. As you know, we could not do this without the help of you, the Elks of Florida.

While in Miami a few weeks ago for State President Carl Gerace's visit, I met Dr. Carlos H. Olaechea and his wife, Marie. Dr. and Mrs. Olaechea, working with Miami Lodge #948, donated tables full of educational toys to Florida Elks Children's Therapy Services. All the items donated were picked up by our therapist in Miami, Chantal Salnave, and delivered to all our therapists. As you know, we depend not only on individual members like Dr. and Mrs. Olaechea but our lodges as well. Dr. Olaechea, who is a six-year member at Miami Lodge, has been a physical therapist for more than 30 years. He has a Doctor of Physical Therapy degree from Boston University and a Bachelor of Science in physical therapy from San Marcos University in Lima, Peru. Dr. Olaechea is an expert in neurologic rehabilitation and physical therapy management of neurologic patients. All of us at Florida Elks Children's Therapy Services are very grateful to Dr. Olaechea and his wife for their kind donation and for spreading the word in Miami about the amazing work we do for the children of Florida. Dr. Olaechea genuinely appreciates and understands the great work our therapists do.

On June 26, FSEA COO, Carl Seibert, and I were invited to attend the annual VoluntEARS of the Year celebration at Disney's Coronado Springs. Disney awards $2,500 to the VoluntEARS' favorite charity. This particular award went to a family of three who, as a family, completed 15 volunteer projects in 2016 totaling 330 hours. They chose Florida Elks Children's Therapy Services to receive a check for $2,500. This young mother had been treated in the Harry-Anna Children's Hospital when she was young and the Elks also helped with her surgery co-pay. She has never forgotten what the Elks did to help her. When she first met her husband, she told him the story of what the Elks did for her and her family and they made it their mission to volunteer their time to worthy causes and maybe someday they could do something for the Elks. A special thank you goes to Kristian Berning and her family for remembering Florida Elks Children's Therapy Services.

From June 1-23, we received 94 applications for therapy services in our office. That does not count the requests for speech therapy and the work that our contract therapists do for us. As you can see, the need is real; we cannot do this without the help of you, the Elks of Florida.

On Sept. 17, 2017, please join us for the 10th annual Florida Elks Day at the Rays fundraiser. For the first time, we will have a child who is currently being treated by one of our therapists in the Tampa area, Yvette Lambert, at the game. Please plan to join us and celebrate with our young patient and his family as he throws out the first pitch of the game. This is a great way to show Florida that the Florida Elks Children's Therapy Services is one of the finest mobile therapy services in the nation. Our therapists are incredibly dedicated to this program and the children they treat.

At the state convention in May, I challenged each Exalted Ruler to hold a special fundraiser for Children's Therapy Services. If your lodge decides to hold an event, please let me know and we will have a therapist available to speak, and if you would like, we can invite one of our therapy families to attend your fundraiser so that your members can see firsthand the great work our therapists do in the name of Florida Elks.

So, please help me by making this a great year for fundraising for Florida Elks Children's Therapy Services!

Greetings from camp! Man, what an incredible time it is to be an Elk – in particular, a Florida Elk. In May, I announced the success of your online registration system for campers, and how despite the challenge of such a new system, you broke all previous records in getting kids signed up for camp. Since then, we’ve completed our first three weeks of summer camp, and the news just keeps getting better. The new registration software has made it easier than ever to keep our camper families updated and for them to update us. Due to this, we can pull from our waiting list to fill the beds of campers who drop out last minute better than ever before. The software has also proven to be more accurate at check-in and checkout. For parents and chaperones, this shortens our processing time. For camp staff, this ensures that all camper information is correct and instantaneously available to staff management.

All this was made possible due to your tireless efforts! Thank you!

We’re not done, though. I think the single, biggest concern we’ve received from our Elks involves lodges remaining in the loop. Our goal this coming year is to modify the system to automatically notify lodges once a camper enrolls. Any child who enrolls using your lodge as his or her sponsor will trigger an email or text to any Elks your lodge designates. This will give you unprecedented ability to interact with the campers and families from your community. If you would like to have input on this change or any other changes you’d like to see, please stay tuned. I will provide details on how you can become part of this process in the next issue of this magazine.

Throughout the years, a staple of your support of the camp has always been donations to our wish list. Whether equipment for grounds-keeping, clothing for needy campers, or supplies for arts and crafts, these donations always helped us afford items that were needed but outside our normal operating budget. This has always been a huge help to us.

However, when you donate to a specific item on the wish list, that money can only be spent on that particular item. Over time, we inevitably build up donations toward items that have already been purchased or are no longer needed. Without further action, these donations will remain dormant within our account, unable to be used to help our programs or campers. So, over the next three months, we will be gathering as much information as we can from those of you who may have donated to these obsolete items. With your permission, we will be able to redirect your donation to a more current project. For now, please take a look at the following items. If you have donated specifically toward one of these items, not just a donation in general, I’d really appreciate it if you would reach out to me to discuss our options. The final phase of this process will be a formal letter to all Florida Elks, likely in my next article.

Here are the obsolete items and donations for consideration:

This year’s state convention, FECON ‘17: A Celebration of Florida Elkdom, was unlike anything members have ever experienced. The FSEA team put together an agenda that was full of activities and events that kept everyone busy and entertained throughout the convention.

For starters, the Friday opening ceremonies saw the nominations and elections of our 2017-2018 state officers and president with the memorial service taking place immediately after. Saturday was the big one! We celebrated Florida Elkdom with a spectacular array of activities and events that engaged the convention attendees throughout the day. Some of the more notable activities included the main stage presentations honoring scholarship recipients, state contest winners, first responder awards and a special initiation ceremony by members of the winning state ritual teams. Thirty-two exhibitors and vendors also participated.

One special award that was presented honored the first responders of Orlando Fire Station No. 5 who were the first on the scene of the June 12 Pulse nightclub shootings that claimed 49 victims.

Special thanks go to our major Florida Elkdom sponsors: Florida Atlantic Securities Corp., Sysco Food Services of Central Florida and the Harry-Anna Investment Fund.

Brotherhood Ride: Florida first responders pay tribute to their fallen comrades.

For many firefighters, June 18, 2017, was a well-deserved day off. However, the calm of the day was suddenly shattered when news broke that nine Charleston, S.C., firefighters lost their lives doing what they love to do, fighting fires and saving lives.

Although firefighters may become somewhat callused and numb to the news of a comrade’s death, when nine lives are lost it becomes significant and hits home. When firefighters feel a loss or pain they gravitate to their second home, their fire station, to be among those also experiencing the same feelings.

Over the past nine years, the ride has honored the memory and sacrifice of 511 emergency first responders.

He found the left-behind shoes of the station’s men and women who had donned their fire gear and were responding to a local emergency. However, for nine Charleston firefighters, their shoes would never be worn again. They would forever be left at their fire stations representing nine fathers, husbands, brothers, friends and loved ones who would never return.

As Morse and a small group of firefighters gathered at the station after the Charleston tragedy, they started to discuss the selfless acts of emergency first responders. Eventually the concept of the Brotherhood Ride was conceived. It was at this time that the firefighters decided to honor the nine members of the Charleston Fire Department. They wanted to help the families of these brave professionals by providing financial and emotional support. Most importantly, they wanted the families to know that their loved ones would not be forgotten in the days, months and years ahead.

Morse and his comrades also did not want these unsung heroes to become just a statistic of being part of the single deadliest disaster for firefighters since 9/11. They knew that whatever they did to honor these heroes should not be easy. To represent the pain and loss that those remaining family members were feeling, 19 firefighters from around the country decided to ride bicycles nearly 600 miles from Naples, Fla., to Charleston, S.C., nine days for nine heroes. It would not be an easy ride, but then again, it would be nothing compared to the ultimate sacrifice the Charleston nine made. The training and ride would be grueling, time-consuming and challenging. “It shows the families, the local police and fire departments who may have lost a member that we haven’t forgotten and we’re honoring those guys every day and their community gets to see it,” said Morse.

Today, the Brotherhood Ride continues the tradition of honor, dedication and pride. Over the past nine years, the ride has honored the memory and sacrifice of 511 emergency first responders which includes firefighters, law enforcement officers and emergency medical personnel. The team has traveled on bicycles over 7,700 miles through 16 states. The riders have been hosted by over 40 Elks lodges nationwide and assisted by countless emergency first responders who have shown the true meaning of brotherhood.

One memorable trip included a 1,734-mile, 22-day ride from Florida to Ground Zero in New York City to commemorate the 10th anniversary memorial services of the September 11 attacks. When the 39 riders made a stop at Jacksonville Elks Lodge, they were welcomed with a ceremony, dinner, overnight lodging and breakfast the next morning. Past Exalted Ruler Dick Maloney recalled, “the emotions were unbelievable. As the bicycle riders approached our lodge after a complete day’s ride with motorcycle police escort not to mention our firefighters’ participation, the crowd’s applause was heartbreaking. Their support staff was genuinely surprised with the reception.”

Brotherhood founder, Jeff Morse, added that the lodge’s preparation “greatly exemplifies the importance of 9/11 and displays in full the great generosity of the Elks organization.”

Each year a ride is dedicated to…
Florida’s fallen responders. This year’s 600-mile ride honoring seven Florida law enforcement officers and three firefighters began in north Naples July 23 and traveled 600 miles up the west coast, crossing over to the central part of the state before heading down the east coast and ending July 29 in Miami. Thirty-four riders and 19 support team personnel participated.

In addition to Charleston and Florida, past Brotherhood Rides have honored fallen responders from Texas, New York, Tennessee, Virginia, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut and Maine. In all, more than $359,000 has been donated to the families left behind.

As Jeff Morse states, “thank you to everyone who sponsors and supports us. With your help we are able to show the families and friends of those who have died in the line of duty that their loved ones will not be forgotten.”

The Brotherhood Ride is a nonprofit 501(c)(3) public charity organization comprised entirely of volunteers. Other than the cost of conducting the rides, all donated proceeds go directly to the beneficiaries designated. No one is compensated for their time in order to maximize the impact of donations. WHY WE RIDE

When I heard of the news that one of my brothers had died, I felt so low.

We had never met, I never shook your hand, our wives did not know each other, nor did your kids call me uncle, but I knew I had lost a brother.

You were a total stranger to me, but there was a lump in my throat and a hole in my heart.

Why did it bother me so much? Why could my wife tell that I had lost another friend?

Why did I feel I needed to show how firefighters, police officers and emergency responders are all brothers?

You had worn the same uniform as mine, that of an emergency responder. You had taken the same oath to protect lives and property, to serve and protect, and to care for the sick, and you knew that the oath was more than a bunch of words or just a job.

You knew from the day that you repeated those words that you would have to put your life on the line to save others. You knew that if you had to, you would risk everything to save someone you never met.

We are not like other workers; we expect to be in danger from the start of our shift until we are relieved by another emergency responder. We will defend and protect anyone who calls us without hesitation.

I wonder what you thought as you made the ultimate sacrifice. I can only hope that as you lay in the darkened smoke-filled hallway or on the dark lonely street, you knew that your brothers were coming to get you.

We know that they were unable to get to you in time, but rest assured, brother, they finished the job you started; they made your community safe again.

So, my brother, I was not able to be with you when you paid the ultimate price, but my brothers and I have come here to honor you. We know that you will say, “I was only doing my job.” No, you were doing the work of God and we will not apologize for reminding everyone that you gave your life to protect their community.

So why do we train so hard to ride for a total stranger? Why do we ride in all different kinds of weather: rain, wind, cold and heat? Why do we sleep wherever we can find space on a floor? Why would we do this for a total stranger? We wouldn’t, but we will for our brothers.

We always say NEVER FORGET, but time moves on and people will forget about that day. Rest assured we will remind them that there are families and coworkers who still have a hole in their heart that will never be filled.

We are not heroes, but we are proud to wear the names of the heroes on our back for all to see.

So, stand down, my brother; you have completed your shift. Let our legs carry your memory and remind all who will listen that you gave your life to save a total stranger.

Eustis #1578
The Eustis Anna Miller Circle met April 1 to pack for The Haven of Lake and Sumter Counties. They had 10 ladies and three Elks to tackle the massive task. The in-kind contribution equaled $4,170. Included were 222 adult welcome kits and 72 children’s welcome kits. The one-quart bags contain travel-sized toiletries, toothbrush, toothpaste and mouthwash. Hand sanitizer and tissues are added to the children’s kits. The collection also included suitcases, clothes and toys. The Haven provides a safe harbor for abused women, teens and children including food, shelter and clothing as well as counseling, advocacy and safety planning. In addition to the adult services, the counselors provide children's school advocacy, school supplies, and individual counseling between students and teachers and court accompaniment. While the mother is making so many adjustments, the children's lives are also greatly impacted and the incredible services provided by The Haven can and do change their lives.

The lodge awarded seven $1,000 scholarships to high school students.

Inverness #2522
What began as an idea about two years ago has come to fruition. Gary Jones, an Inverness Elks member and avid quilter, along with his wife, Marilyn, agreed to put together an Elks quilt. Unfortunately, shortly after starting the project, Gary was diagnosed with lung cancer. He would not quit; he worked as much as physically possible and put the final stitches to the face of the quilt shortly before passing. The quilting portion of the project was completed by Karol Kuzmaul. This beautiful, one-of-a-kind quilt depicts the pillars of the Elks foundation and collateral items for which Elks stand. The membership recently voted to raffle the quilt as a lodge fundraiser.

South Marion-Villages #2730
South Marion-Villages Elks Lodge #2730 held a drug awareness and safety program. Guests of the day included anti-drug Sprint car driver, Keith Butler, who brought his car; Elroy the Elk; representatives from the Belleview Police, Marion County Sheriff and Marion County Fire; and the head of Security for Marion County Schools. On display were tactical vehicles and the mobile jail. Security topics included internet safety, bullying and the dangers of drugs. Sadly, lightning prevented the use of golf carts for various tasks with “drunk goggles” to demonstrate drunk driving, but an indoor obstacle course with wheelchairs was improvised. Pizza was served as well.

South Marion-Villages Lodge held a yard sale where members and community were asked to donate items to sell. The sale raised $980 for the Elks National Foundation. Also, the lodge awarded the winners of the Drug Awareness poster and essay contests $100 and a pizza party for their class.

Winter Park #1830
Mysteriously over 400 Easter eggs appeared on the Winter Park Lodge lawn, in the bushes and in the trees behind the lodge. Fortunately, about 50 egg-loving children from the community came equipped with baskets for the annual Easter egg hunt. They and their families had fun and gave the lodge members a hand in cleaning up. In addition to Easter candy, stuffed animals were given to all children who participated. The Easter Bunny was there as well to the delight of the children and adults.

Winter Park Lodge Chairmen Ron and Kathryn Cunningham developed 41 camperships to send kids to the Florida Elks Youth Camp. They received funds from the lodge, DOES and parents.

Winter Park Lodge officers performed the annual Flag Day ritual for members and guests. The event was followed by a cookout at the lodge. Assisting in the flag presentations were members of the Lake Howell High School JROTC. Members of the DOES Auxiliary performed their flag ceremony which was selected to be performed at the DOES state convention and the national convention led by Supreme President, Karen Trachsel, from the local drove.

On April 22, DeLand Elks held their second annual car show and barbecue. Over 20 vehicles were present to be shown off by their owners. Robert Knight prepared the barbecue of pulled pork and chicken with baked beans and potato salad. It was a perfect day to listen to the 50s and 60s tunes played by DJ Warren Kerswill.

Forty boys of Cub Pack 531 and Scout Troop 531 and their parents joined together at DeLand Elks Lodge for their annual pinewood derby. The event was comprised of an awards ceremony and a luncheon. The pinewood derby is the final event for the Cub Scouts before they move on to the Boy Scouts. This gives the pack one last event with the current group of boys. Each scout is given a kit which contains a block of pine, plastic wheels and nails for axles. Their car cannot weight more than 5 ounces; the boys are encouraged to design and build their own car. Each car races eight times and four cars per race, and the times are recorded. All races are randomly picked by the track software. The scout with the lowest cumulative time wins. The top three racers win a medal and all boys receive a participation ribbon. They also like to include siblings to join in the fun. They too can race their own pinewood derby car in a separate race. This is an exciting way to include the whole family before the summer break.

The flag of the United States represents freedom and has been an enduring symbol of the country’s ideals since its early days. During both events, Americans also remember their loyalty to the nation, reaffirm their belief in liberty and justice, and observe the nation’s unity. Orlando Lodge and the lodge drill team did this in conjunction with Boy Scout Troop #290, who presented the flags through the years. Following this event, approximately 40 members enjoyed a potluck dinner that members had provided.

special education center school serving students ages 5-22. Within a safe and supportive learning environment, the children develop their academic and independent living skills to meet post-secondary goals and successful community integration.

Vero Beach Lodge sent 37 children to the Florida Elks Youth Camp in beautiful Umatilla, Fla., for a fun-filled, carefree week packed with swimming, boating, campfires, movies, archery, a ropes course, aquatic center and much more. This was a child’s camping vacation dream come true and they could just be kids without having to deal with any of the countless family issues they live with daily. The Elks contributed money to pay for the bus to transport the children to and from the camp and to pay for their week at the camp. This annual program will continue.

Vero Beach Lodge sent 37 children to the Florida Elks Youth Camp.

Vero Beach Lodge awarded college scholarships of $1,000 each to two students from Vero Beach. Elizabeth Tuite is the daughter of Elks member Robert Tuite. She will be attending the University of Florida. She is an honor student and graduated from Vero Beach High School. Sarah Coveny is the daughter of Elks member Pat Coveny. She will be attending the University of South Florida. She graduated as an honor student at Vero Beach High School with a GPA of 4.44.

The Elks Love Kids of Character Impact Grant project continues to push the Vero Beach Elementary School students forward. Their wampum reward system has been a driving force behind the school’s success in getting the students on track for positive behavior by raising the awareness that character counts and getting good grades are important for success. Teachers are using the wampum reward system in the classroom to redirect behavior and focus. Students are rewarded for good grades, politeness, sharing, following directions, focus and good behavior. The lodge goal has been to help the school with behavior problems, morale and grades by funding their positive-behavior store, named Elks Love Kids of Character Store, with meaningful rewards that also help struggling households by providing school supplies, engaging toys and snacks.

The Impact Grant also provides 200 free uniforms for underprivileged students. This school has 90% of its population living in poverty. The lodge feels the children are victims of circumstance and new uniforms lift their spirits to do well and take the financial pressure off the parents struggling to pay bills.

In May, they added free books to the program. Books are a rare commodity in a household where money is tight. The Elks collect children’s books at the lodge and distribute them to the children as they exit the store. So far this year they have collected and distributed over 300 children’s books.

This is the lodge’s third Impact Grant and they are finally seeing significant results:

• Grades have gone up in math 16% and 10% in reading this year.
• Behavior has improved; there is an overall 92% decrease from last year.
• The school grade is now rated a high C; three years prior it was rated F.
• Teachers were leaving the school because of behavior issues but now they are staying.
• Elk volunteers are really stepping up to help the school more than ever.
• Students know the community cares about them because of this program.
• Morale is up and students like coming to school.

On Saturday, March 25, after the St. Petersburg Elks installation of new officers, Joanne Matos received the distinct honor of receiving the Kelley pin, a tradition that dates to the late Charles A. Kelley, a Past Exalted Ruler (1898-1899) of Boston Lodge No. 10 who later served as Grand Esteemed Leading Knight. He had the idea of giving a distinctive Elks pin to friends who were members of the Grand Lodge. After Kelley became less active, he gave the die for the pin to Past Grand Exalted Ruler James R. Nicholson who then passed it to the next GER and so forth. It became a tradition that the pin could be received by a Past Exalted Ruler who is a fully paid member of the Elks National Foundation. Everything at the event was free to the kids, including refreshments, hot dogs, chips and beverages.

Plant City #1727

Helping children is a priority for Plant City Elks Lodge #1727. Earlier this year, the lodge donated $285 to Marshall Middle School to bring unpaid lunch debts current. If charges aren't paid, the debt follows the child, and if the debt isn't paid by the time of the student's high school graduation, the student is not allowed to graduate. With that in mind, the lodge rallied around the goal to pay off all student lunch debt for all Plant City's schools. On May 3, the lodge hosted a dinner for Area 6 Superintendent, Sharon Morris; Assistant Superintendent, Dr. Larry Sykes; and a representative from each of the 17 schools in Plant City. A check was presented to each school representative. A total of $2,691.26 was donated. Exalted Ruler, Marty Carroll, hopes the project will be an annual event. “Helping kids and helping the community is what the Elks are all about.”

Past District Deputy, Carl Williams, was the main speaker of the dedication and spoke of Sheldon's 25 years in the U.S. Marine Corp as well as his 41 years as a dedicated Elk. The Patriot Guard Riders were part of the dedication. Alan Cole, Patriot Guard Riders Assistant State Captain and fellow Elk, presented Cyndi Jones, daughter of George Sheldon, a Patriot Guard Riders Challenge Coin and Eagle pendant necklace.

SSE PER Association
The South Southeast PER Association sent donations to two veterans programs. They donated to the Women Veterans Baby Shower to be held in November at the Miami VA Hospital. They also sent a donation to allow six to eight paraplegic veterans to attend the Veterans Paraplegic Games in Los Angeles this summer.

Boca Raton #2166
The members of Boca Raton Elks Lodge #2166 held a special recognition dinner for the FAU student veterans at the lodge and hosted over 30 veterans and members. The FAU veterans support the Elks by distributing food, personal hygiene items and clothing to homeless veterans in the area. The dinner was to celebrate their involvement in the lodge and community. The lodge also helped a homeless veteran acquire dormitory housing at FAU so that he could continue his studies. Rick Haradon, Lodge Chairman of the Veterans Committee, works with these young veterans every day to help them find their way while serving their country.

On Memorial Day, Boca Raton Lodge was once again represented at Boca Raton’s annual Memorial Day ceremony at the local cemetery. The Exalted Ruler was one of the guest speakers.

Hollywood West #2365
Hollywood West Elks Lodge #2365 holds monthly flea markets for veterans and they also bring in veterans from Sandy Nininger Nursing Home once a month to participate in their monthly brunch. The members recently participated in the welcome-home Honor Flight celebration at Fort Lauderdale/Hollywood International Airport. A color guard and bagpipers led the procession and veterans were warmly welcomed home from their trip.

Veterans Chairman, George Caffrey, presented a Purple Heart flag to Frank Ortis, the mayor of Pembroke Pines, Fla. The flag will be flown at City Hall proclaiming that the city of Pembroke Pines is a Purple Heart city committed to honoring America’s combat wounded veterans.

Florida Keys #1872
Florida Keys Elks Lodge's Vets on the Water program made it possible for four veterans to have a day of fishing in the beautiful Florida Keys. The lodge’s Impact Grant and one of the lodge’s partners, Takedown Charters of Islamorada, provided this very successful fishing day.

Oakland Park #2407
The members of Oakland Park Elks Lodge #2407 continue to support veterans by hosting dinners for them which are served by a local Girl Scout troop. They have held meetings with Honor Flight and have shared all information about them with their veterans. They are now working on recruiting more volunteers to continue their project of reading to residents at the Miami VA Hospital.

Pompano Beach #1898
Pompano Beach Elks Lodge #1898 has been supporting Sand and Spurs, a local 501(c)(3) charity that helps veterans and children learn how to ride and care for horses. Children enjoy riding Jade and Libby. Lodge members also support the Adopt-a-Vet program in their community. One veteran they have worked with is now nicely recuperating from surgery and will be with his family soon. Two new veterans are also being helped. An anonymous member provided a donation to allow local high school juniors and seniors to volunteer at the Bill Kling VA Clinic in Sunrise, Fla. The experience will allow them to assist veterans and learn about their sacrifices for our country.

BPOE HISTORY

Henry O’Neil, Exalted Grand Architect:
The Father of Elks Structure

Henry O’Neil was a member of New York Lodge #1. He served as Grand Treasurer at the first meeting of the Grand Lodge Feb. 12, 1871, and as Exalted Grand Ruler, as it was then called, from 1875-1876.

The distinctive features which make our fraternity unique in the group of similar fraternal organizations are due to Henry O’Neil. He gave it its first laws, its ritualistic formulae in extenso and its odes. His intellect for years directed the organization’s policy. It is due to him that this association of men under the title of Elks became an order. It was O’Neil’s suggestion that caused the formation of the Grand Lodge and his political influence that acquired the charter from the legislature of New York and the signature of Governor Hoffman.

O’Neil gave shape and form to the legislative work and was the first man to institute a sensible code in the order, writing the basic part of the present-day Elks jurisprudence. Its development from there has been an evolution in accordance with the needs of the order itself, various laws being since framed to meet requirements.

He conceived the application of the newly established principles of Elksdom: charity, justice, brotherly love and fidelity. He elaborated the esoteric work of the order and made laws which are still in force and effect except such changes as the latter-day requirements of the order demanded.

O’Neil worked incessantly to spread the doctrine of fraternity in the particular form with which we are familiar, divesting an association of bigotry, dogma and an attempt to paraphrase religious rites. As Exalted Grand Ruler he suggested the enlargement of the boundaries of the order, then confined to two lodges, and he provided the laws requisite to grant dispensation for No. 3 and granted such dispensation.

He originated the ritual for the annual Lodge of Sorrow and the Decoration Day service. He collated and put the words to many of the odes, copywriting the same in his own name and presenting them to the order. He also selected the amaranth and ivy as funeral emblems.

In short, O’Neil left a legacy of his own personality which pervades the entire system that goes so far to make up the order.

His funeral was largely attended by members of New York Lodge #1 and his casket was covered with amaranth and ivy. He was buried in Cavalry Cemetery in Long Island City, N.Y.

Best Practices for Running a Successful Lodge:
Guidelines for Keeping Lodge Records

The length of time a lodge should keep a document depends on the action, expense or the event the document records. Generally, you must keep your records that support an item of income or deductions on a tax return until the period of limitations for that return runs out.

The period of limitations is the period of time in which you can amend your tax return to claim a credit or refund or that the IRS can assess additional tax. The information to the right contains the periods of limitations that apply to income tax returns. Unless otherwise stated, the years refer to the period after the return was filed. Returns filed before the due date are treated as filed on the due date.

The following questions should be applied to each record as you decide whether to keep a document or throw it away:

Are the records connected to assets?

Keep records relating to property until the period of limitations expires for the year in which you dispose of the property in a taxable disposition. You must keep these records to figure any depreciation, amortization or depletion deduction and to figure the gain or loss when you sell or otherwise dispose of the property.

Generally, if you received property in a nontaxable exchange, your basis in that property is the same as the basis of the property you gave up increased by any money you paid. You must keep the records on the old property as well as on the new property until the period of limitations expires for the year in which you dispose of the new property in a taxable disposition.

What should I do with my records for nontax purposes?

When your records are no longer needed for tax purposes, do not discard them until you check to see if you have to keep them longer for other purposes. For example, your insurance company or creditors may require you to keep them longer than the IRS does.

FSEA Business Development Committee

LENGTH OF TIME TO KEEP COPIES

1. If you owe additional tax and situations 2, 3 and 4 do not apply to you, keep records for three years.

2. If you do not report income that you should report and it is more than 25% of the gross income shown on your return, keep records for six years.

3. If you file a fraudulent return, keep records indefinitely.

4. If you do not file a return, keep records indefinitely.

5. If you file a claim for credit or refund after you file your return, keep records for three years from the date you filed your original return or two years from the date you paid the tax, whichever is later.

6. If you file a claim for a loss from worthless securities or bad debt deduction, keep records for seven years.

7. Keep all employment tax records for at least four years after the date that the tax becomes due or is paid, whichever is later.

Note: Keep copies of your filed tax returns. They help in preparing future tax returns and making computations if you file an amended return.
